

Who is Djehuty?

An Overview

This Ascended Master appears in each culture in the earth time line. He is a Mercury figure, so is involved with communication, delivering messages, mediation, transcription, translation, and teaching and learning. Various cultures know him as various names, and I work with four faces of this Ascended Master for different reasons and to different ends.

- The name Djehuty is an anglicized version of the Egyptian name dḥwty, which means "he who is like the ibis". This manifestation has emerged as my primary teacher and source of information. My recent channeling on love, marriage, and sexuality have been through Djehuty.
- Thoth is his name from the Greeks. Thoth is the version of the Master who came to teach me about the soul and taking astrology to the next level, which is to say developing an astrology for the quantum age, or the Aquarian Age, reflected in my current work and my book The Soul's Journey I: Astrology, Reincarnation, and Karma with a Medium and Channel.
- St. Germain is a manifestation of this Ascended Master. He keeps the violet flame of forgiveness. I work with him when teaching and channeling about compassion and forgiveness.
- Merlin is a title for the Druid high priest at any given time, though the one that is mythologized in Arthurian legend was an embodiment of this Ascended Master. I work with Merlin when sexual issues and dynamics need to be healed and when a person's understanding and expression of his or her sexuality is ready to be brought back into balance. Merlin is an alchemist and offers wisdom via ancient tantra, and I refer to his role as pertaining to "sex magick".

Aside from the different manifestations on earth he has had and the different names given to him, this Master's commitment is to support the unfolding of the divine plan. Whatever it is that one needs to further individual or collective evolution, this Master can be asked for support.

Djehuty does not take sides. Anyone who asks for his help can receive it. For this reason, some humans doing spirit work of one kind or another teach that he cannot be trusted and should be feared. They perceive that the forces of evil are benefitted by working with Djehuty and that he is therefore evil himself. This is a misunderstanding of his role based in dualism, how humans have been seeing things for as long as there have been humans. He can teach us to be dispassionate in order to support the needs of individuals as they evolve, understanding that each is divine and withholding labels such as good and evil. He recognizes that the free will humans possess is their single greatest tool in re-discovering themselves as diving beings, his basic commitment (this is the divine plan – that we one by one recall our true divine nature). His view therefore is always a long one. His viewpoint is always a bird's eye view taking in a larger span of space-time than you would have expected. He also teaches that no one can be for you the final authority on anything; that you must discover the truth of a thing yourself and choose to align with it or choose not to.

My relationship with this Ascended Master in this life began around 2005, when I began asking more about the nature of soul than my studies of evolutionary astrology were offering me. I felt that in that work we were talking about soul and doing interesting things with our idea of it, but there was more I felt could be added to the dialogue (though I had no idea what that would be!). I sensed there were some key points that were missing. As I meditated on certain questions about soul, how human lives are related to soul, how soul experiences its human lives, and how astrology can be understood in terms of those answers, Djehuty is the one who showed up with answers. He also is the one at the source of my channeling about the end of the Mayan Calendar, a.k.a. 2012.

At present he is my primary guide. His level of consciousness, and the detachment he is committed to, have been teaching me much about transitioning into Aquarian Age ways of being and thinking now, as well as how to support individuals in their evolution by teaching them to re-discover themselves as divine beings.
